

NCL Air Flight Confirmation

Thank you for choosing Norwegian Cruise Line's (NCL) Air program for your air arrangements. This confirmation acts as your electronic air ticket receipt.

As you have booked under our Air Promotion, these airline tickets were selected for you based on your embarkation port and the travel dates you requested, according to our service standards (www.ncl.com/air-service-standards). The tickets must reflect your full legal name exactly as it appears on your passport or required travel documentation, please see Passenger Information below.

The air tickets below were booked within our services standards for the air promotional program and are not eligible for changes, exchanges, or refunds. Please note, within the program we do use any airport in proximity to your cruise port or your home airport, please refer to our service standards for examples. Additionally, if you are flying to Europe, you may be routed through Canada.

We encourage you to visit the airline website and link your reservation to your email address and mobile phone so you can receive information regarding your flight, check-in online and make seat selections as necessary.

If there are delays, cancellations, or any schedule changes within 72 hours of your departure time, you will need to work directly with your airline for re-accommodations. These changes are beyond the control of NCL. More information can be found at (www.ncl.com/freestyle-cruise/airsea). It is important that you reconfirm your flight times within 72 to 24 hours of departure on the airline website to ensure no changes have been made.

Should your flight change outside of 72 hours, NCL will send you a new flight confirmation showing updated times. However, if the flight is no longer within our service standards a new flight will be ticketed for you. If the airline notifies you of a schedule change that is more than 14 days from your vacation start date, please allow up to 7 days for NCL to process the schedule change and/or find new flights. If your schedule change is within 14 days of travel, we will review the updated times within 1 to 2 business days. Once processed, we will provide a new air confirmation. There is no further action necessary on your part.

Also, please note that if you should miss boarding the airplane for the first segment of this ticket and it is not directly related to a delayed or canceled flight, the airlines will cancel all remaining segments of this ticket. This is an automatic cancellation that is not controlled by NCL. Should this occur, you will need to purchase your own flights directly with the airline.

Please ensure you arrive at the airport in sufficient time as check-in and security lines are very lengthy at many locations.

Air transportation is subject to the individual contract terms of air carriers which are incorporated by reference into every ticket. You can obtain this information at any location where air carrier's tickets are sold. You also have the right, upon request, free of charge, to receive full text of the applicable terms from each of the transporting air carriers.
